

Montgomery Alliance for Community Giving is busy year-round, supporting the area's health and human service organizations.

This year, Montgomery Alliance has responded to a need from The ARC of Montgomery County to modernize a barrier-free playground for pre-school children with special needs. The SWING! project committee raised funds for specialized equipment and obtained valuable in-kind support from professionals. A Fall 2010 ribbon-cutting honors those who have given to the SWING! project.

The County's new Family Justice Center received tremendous support in 2009 from Montgomery Alliance. Proceeds from an old-fashioned Ice Cream Social and donations from the community enabled the Alliance to furnish and equip the Center's children's waiting room with a TV, DVDs, books, toys, pint-sized furniture and snacks.

In Spring 2008, BOOK Buddies, raised more than $13,000 to put books into the hands of Montgomery County children who are growing up without them.

Each year, members of the Alliance's Needs Assessment Committee, with Board approval, identify several specific needs areas for support. Grant proposals are solicited from local non-profit agencies, and financial awards are made to programs working in specific needs areas, based on expected efficiency, impact and outcomes.

Montgomery Alliance works to ensure that the County's non-profit organizations receive the greatest support possible and, to that end, has maintained a low 5% administrative fee. Your donations may be made by pledge card or by using our e-pledge system at www.montgomeryalliance.org.

PROVIDES

Opportunities for residents and businesses to invest in strengthening our Montgomery community by supporting health and human service nonprofit organizations.

OPERATES

Effectively and efficiently at the lowest cost possible, using trained volunteers for fundraising, distribution and oversight. The administrative charge for operations and campaign cost is held to only 5%.

PLEDGES

The highest commitment to ethical integrity, oversight and credibility. It assures accountability for contributions through a closely-managed and independent audit process, as well as oversight of recipients' use of grant funds.

ASSURES

Donors that their contributions will support only agencies which employ effective practices to reach defined outcomes for addressing documented needs. A local volunteer review panel carefully assesses agency capacity and relevancy of proposed programs to meet documented health and human service needs.

FACILITATES

Donor-friendly procedures, including an electronic web-based pledging process. Donors may have their gifts allocated by the local volunteer review panel, according to the latest community-needs data, or designate a particular health and human service organization. Donations may be made by pledge card or by using our e-pledge system at www.montgomeryalliance.org.
